1. [REDACTED] through the Teleoptik Factory for precision instruments in Zemun, destroying all archives including personnel files and dossiers, production data, and plans. In brief, all the most important material for factory production burned. A rumor circulated that all the projects, drawings, calculations, and plans which had arrived from America for the construction of certain instruments also were destroyed.
2. It was an act of sabotage. The chief engineer of the factory, Milan Briski, is under investigation. He is accused of neglecting the safety of the factory, and that buildings were not adequately guarded. There were no arrests. The whole investigation is being conducted very secretly because the authorities wish to hide the fact from the public.

25X1A

[REDACTED] Comment: A report of another government agency stated that the Teleoptic factory was scheduled to move from Zemun to Banja Luka by July 1951.
